The clock and the ornament were worth about $14, and Kendrick paid 50 cents down. Ho gave Scowler an assumed name and a fictitious address, and told him to call once a menth for the balance, to be paid piecemeal. Scowler called at the address given, but falled to find his man until quife recently. Then it was found that dress given, but falled to mad his man un-til quite recently. Then it was found that the clock had been pawned a few days after it was bought. Kendrick was arrest-ed as soon as he could be located. mental condition.

Since his arrest Williams has shown a tendency to epilepsy and has had several fits. The physician who attended him said that the medical authorities recognize epilepsy as a defense in such cases, but, while he had read of hundreds of such cases among white men, this was the first time he had heard of epilepsy playing a part in the defense of a colored man.

"That simply shows," said Detective Lacey, who is himself a colored man, "what progress our race is making along all lines."

The Garbage Furnace Question

To the Editor of The Evening Star: The question of the destruction of gar bage in this city during these hot September days is a very vital one, and the article in Wednesday's Star from an eye witness at Atlantic City is not reassuring to people who do not want ill odors to be multiplied among them.I learn that the garbage contractor is negotiating for the purchase of ground on Rock creek, within two equares of Pennsylvania avenue. I write to ask whether there is any protection possi-ble for property owners in this thickly settled neighborhood? It is surmised that a water front is necessary in case the crematery fails to do the work expected of it properly, in which case the ground will be used for a dumping ground for garbage and dead animals—in which event the place will become an intolerable nuisance. The place become an intolerable nuisance. The place selected is doubtless very convenient for the garbage contractor, but surely other considerations should outweigh this in the mir ds of our honorable Commissioners of the District. My neighbors and I have protested against their approving this site for such a nuisance. If no satisfactory place can be found within the city limits, where there are few residents, the crematories should be located outside those limits, where houses are not built up so closely, and where the lives of men, women and more particularly the numerous children in the neighborhood, will not be endangered.

The senatorial convention of the fourteenth senatorial district, composed of Alexandria city and county and Fairfax and Prince William counties, was called to order in the opera house shortly after ncon yesterday by Mr. J. M. Love, chairman of the democratic committee of Fairmarks he nominated Mr. J. B. T. Thornton of Prince William for chairman, and Mr. Jas. E. Clements of Alexandria county for secretary. Mr. Leonard W. Marbury of this city then placed Capt. Geo. A. Mushbach in nomination, referring to his past zcn. He was followed by Mr. A. A. Lipscomb of Alexandria county, who seconded the nomination, not only for his high character and undoubted ability, but also because Capt. Mushbach had announced that he was in favor of Mr. John W. Daniel for the United States Senate. Mr. H. M.
Owens of Prince William and Mr. F. W.
Richardson of Fairfax also seconded the nomination, and moved that it be made by acclamation and a committee be appointed to wait upon Capt. Mushbach and notify him of his nomination. The committee returned in a few minutes, accompanied by the captain, who was greeted with apzen. He was followed by Mr. A. A. Lipsturned in a few minutes, accompanied by the captain, who was greeted with applause. He thanked the convention for the confidence they had reposed in him, and said it showed that the 50,000 people of this district were able to manage their own affairs without the aid of so-called newspapers of foreign or domestic manufacture, who indulged in sensational attacks upon people for the purpose of inflating the r circulation above the normal average of 100.

He had been asked why he nad not replied to the attacks made upon him by a Washington paper, and by a domestic one, whose editor was not even a resident of this district. His vindication was the assemblage of gentlemen who had just reforminated him for the state senate. He stated that to avoid any misunderstanding he would state that he intended voting for John W. Daniel for United States Senator.

The convention then adjourned. The renomination of Capt. Mushbach was The renomination of Capt. A High Old Time.

Two well-dressed young women came here from Washington last night and proceeded had gotten a sufficient quantity on board to induce them to give a free exhibition of themselves on Royal street, and, lifting themselves on Royal street, and, lifting their skirts they went through the "double shuffle" and "high kick" for the edification of a curious crowd, which had collected. Officer Arrington thought they ought to have hired a hall, so he locked them up. They gave their names as Katie Hawley and Bettie Patterson, and in the police court this morning they acknowledged they had taken more toddy than they intended, but had no recollection of what occurred last night. His honor taxed Katie $10 for her share in the performance, and Bettie get off with $5.

Chased the Chickens.

Edward Jackson, colored, told Judge Kimball this morning that he was not guilty, but a number of witnesses said he was. The charge was vagrancy, but it was used to cover several offenses which could not have been so easily proved. Two could not have been so easily proved. Two small boys testified that they saw him in a neighbor's yard Monday and that he was amusing himself chasing chickens. There was no proof that he stole any of the minister's pets, for it was in a dominie's back yard, where he had a score of yellow-legged beauties fattening for the table.

Edward admitted that he was very drunk on that and various other occasions. He might have done it, but he wasn't sure. Just as the judge was about to pronounce sentence a colored lawyer rushed into court and entered a plea of not guilty for Jackson. Everybody smiled, but the lawyer wanted the case reopened, so that he might have the evidence, but the judge sald

"I don't know about that," said Deputy Marshal Darr. "These lawyers are always talking to the prisoners, and if they don't happen to have any money the lawyers don't defend them."

Then everybody smiled excepting Jackson and his late lawyer, and the court said that Jackson would have to furnish bonds or go to the workhouse for fifteen days.

Alleged Reckless Driving, With a Resulting

The Ownership of the Streets an Issue in Appropriations for Grading -Other Local Notes.

Justin McCarthy, a Washington contrac tor, was locked up at the station last night two charges-reckless driving and assault and battery. While driving down M street near 30th yesterday evening he gave his horse's head a terk and, it is alleged started across the readway. A moment later the shaft and wheel of the vehicle struck A. G. Borghausen, a young man, be tween twenty-three and twenty-four, who was waiting for a car. The shock knocked him down, and before he could arise a baker's wagon ran over the victim's legs. He was quite seriously hurt. McCarthy was taken in by the police, and later re leased on collateral.

Dover Released.

Geo. Dover, who violently attacked Nathan Ridout with a base ball bat on a colored excursion down the Potomac some days ago and was arrested here on the charge of assault and battery with intent to kill, had his case nolle prossed yesterday, the District courts not having juris diction. Ridout is in a bad way. He is seriously hurt, it is reported, and may die. Dover has had court experiences before. Two or three months ago he got in a razor fight opp-site the "Twenty Buildings," and received some horrible facial gashes. One of the jabs of his antagonist the weapon so heavily against his gasnes. One of the jabs of his antagonist brought the weapon so heavily against his jawbone that the blade was snapped in two. Surgical attention and time brought him around, however.

Tagging Dogs. Three owners of unlicensed dogs were Here, the police ray, exists a big defect in the law. Non-compliance should be made punishable. As things are, there is always a possibility of worming out of the payment of the $2 per dog, and a discovery of an attempt to elude the law meets with no substantial rebuke.

It is the cwners' knowledge of this that rakes the collection of the dog tax a most unpleasant and slowly accomplished task.

Control of Streets." The people here claim that the Commissioners, have no right whatever, nor has Congress, to interfere with the grades or streets in Georgetown without the permission of the property owners, as they say that the title to the streets is still vested in the prop-erty holders and not in the United States
